Project Overview & Site History

The City of Raleigh seeks to hire an artist or artist team to create an iconic public artwork for the activation of the facade (from interior/exterior) of the new Raleigh Convention Center (RCC) expansion.

Since opening in 2008, the RCC has become a bustling hub for culture, commerce, and technology in Downtown Raleigh. The 500,000 square-foot facility includes a 32,000 square-foot ballroom and sweeping 150,000 square-foot exhibit hall. Located steps away from Red Hat Amphitheater and the Martin Marietta Center for the Performing Arts, and home to artist Thomas Sayre's Shimmer Wall public artwork, it sits at the epicenter of the city's entertainment district.

Design is underway for the expansion of the RCC as well as the relocation of Red Hat Amphitheater. This will add an additional 500,000 square-feet. Coming years will also see the opening of a new 550-room Omni Hotel. This area could also be incorporated into the South Park Heritage Trail and/or the Chavis-Dix Strollway projects which will encourage walking, biking, and socializing along the pathway. Historically, the location falls in what was formerly known as the Fourth Ward. A site has been developed to include personal histories of residents who lived in the Fourth Ward.

Public Art Goals and Opportunities

- Artwork will be located at the RCC and will activate the facade through exterior integration, integration into the glass windows, and/or suspended interior artwork that can also be visible from the outside.
- Artwork should be easily visible from the exterior of the building (either applied directly to the facade or visible through the windows).
- The artist will work closely with the design team, and on a tight design timeline, to integrate the artwork into the building.
- Applicants are encouraged to think about how the art can elevate the aesthetics of a prominent city structure and reflect the cultural and creative character of downtown Raleigh. Applicants should consider the proximity to the Red Hat Amphitheater and other public art, like Thomas Sayre's Shimmer Wall.
- Artwork should engage drivers, pedestrians, and attendees to Red Hat Amphitheater and Convention Center events.
- The selected artist or team will work with the Public Art and Design Board through the City of Raleigh Arts Commission and City staff, including planning and development, engineering services, Raleigh Convention Center and Raleigh Arts to integrate artwork into the site.
