

Figure 1. A. and B. leaves rolled by the new species, Agromyza torta, mining through the insides of leaves of Sugarberry (Celtis laevigata). C. a larva mining through a hackberry leaf. D. puparium (fly pupa) made by a fly that exited from one of the leaf-roller mines.