Capital area Greenway Trail System
Raleigh boasts one of the most extensive greenway systems in the United States! Currently, there are 104 miles of trails, or 28 individual routes. For more information, go to: parks.raleighnc.gov

East Coast Greenway
The Art to Heart Corridor forms a segment of the East Coast Greenway (ECG), a developing trail system linking major cities of the eastern seaboard between Canada and Key West—totaling 2,900 miles! Go to www.greenway.org for more information.

RGreenway App
Need help planning your route? The RGreenway application, designed for smartphones, functions as a guide to the Raleigh greenway systems. Download it here: www.rgreenway.com or use the QR code at right.

PHOTO CREDITS
Jerry Markatos (Cover), Ted Richardson (Pullen Park), Pack Pix/Marc Hall (NCS State) Brochure Produced by Alta Planning + Design

From southern Fayetteville St., easily walk to 60+ eateries and 50 shops, or try an urban rickshaw for more great dining and shopping.

The R-LINE is downtown’s free circulator bus service, connecting all downtown districts.

The North Carolina Museum of Art, where the corridor begins, is the state’s premier collection of art, situated within a 164-acre sculpture park. Enjoy NCMa’s three miles of recreational trails, take in an exhibit, shop or enjoy a meal in its award-winning new gallery building.

For more information go to: www.ncartmuseum.org/museum_park/visit_park/

» The museum park is open every day during daylight hours.
» Galleries are open Tuesday - Thursday, Saturday and Sunday 10 am - 5 pm, and Friday 10 am - 9 pm; Closed Monday.

» From southern Fayetteville St., easily walk to 60+ eateries and 50 shops, or try an urban rickshaw for more great dining and shopping.

The R-LINE is downtown’s free circulator bus service, connecting all downtown districts.

» The museum park is open every day during daylight hours.
» Galleries are open Tuesday - Thursday, Saturday and Sunday 10 am - 5 pm, and Friday 10 am - 9 pm; Closed Monday.

A corridor connecting the North Carolina Museum of Art to the heart of Downtown Raleigh

» The museum park is open every day during daylight hours.
» Galleries are open Tuesday - Thursday, Saturday and Sunday 10 am - 5 pm, and Friday 10 am - 9 pm; Closed Monday.

A corridor connecting the North Carolina Museum of Art to the heart of Downtown Raleigh